DIANE BARCELOWSKY: *Yellow Buckets of Blood 2
At FOUND GALLERY, August 4th – 27th, 2007

LOS ANGELES—New York based artist Diane Barcelowsky returns to Found Gallery with her paper saga Yellow Buckets of Blood 2. This exhibition depicts unique and bizarre epic narratives of ink-drawn figures on paper which contain rich, emotionally-charged characters from America's tribal past.

The opening reception inaugurates the celebration of Found Gallery's Paper Anniversary. Barcelowsky will transform the gallery by presenting a large body of work in conjunction with a theatrical dance directed by Brina Thurston, a DJ set by Kate McCombs, and a performance by the band Tribal Tat. The theatrical performance hints back to the classic tradition of opera, combining music, costume, acting, scenery and dance. This is the first of several events Found Gallery is hosting during the month of August to celebrate one year of being a dynamic venue for emerging artists in Los Angeles.

ABOUT THE ARTIST

Diane Barcelowsky lives in New York. She works in ink on paper, with bright, vivid characters interacting in fantastical worlds.
